1. What is the process for renting my property with High Country Properties?

Assessment: Once you have spoken to our Staff about the possibility of renting your property, a representative from High Country Properties will meet with you at your property to determine whether it will be a suitable rental home. At that time our staff may offer recommendations, based on our experience, to help you maximize your revenue potential.

Property Readiness: Your property needs to be rental ready to ensure that the photos accurately highlight the features of your property. Please bear in mind that your property will be entered in our reservations system immediately upon receipt of your management agreement and we will begin booking your property whether or not it is on the webpage.

When your property has been entered into High Country Properties' systems, our staff will clean the property as required to ensure that hospitality standards are met and set up our supplies and universal linens. A full inventory of the contents and an assessment of the property's operating systems will also be completed at this time. We will need 3-5 days from the date on your agreement until the property is cleaned and ready for rental.

Systems Entry: Your property will be entered into our reservations system immediately upon receipt of your management agreement. Our Reservations Team will be familiarized with your property through a site visit and we will begin booking your property whether or not it is live on the website. Your property will go live on our website booking system within one month of receiving your signed management agreement. Please note that this process may take longer during peak seasons.

INCOME & STATEMENTS

1. What will the nightly rental rate be for my property?

Nightly rates are published on our website and in our advertising. However the vacation rental business is different than hotels. We are selling a vacation package and not a one night stay. Whether a guest stays three nights or four nights the expenses to the property are the same. We therefore sometimes offer special packages (especially in value season) for guests that give them “one night free”. We also offer weekly rates that incorporate the free night concept. Our guest is very happy because he is getting a “special deal” and our owner is happy because he is getting the revenue instead of zero. Reduced rates are sometimes allowed on last minute bookings as well. This kind of information will not show on your statement so it can appear that nightly rates vary.

All rates vary over the three rate seasons of Holiday, High and Value.

2. When will I get a cheque?

Cheques and statements are mailed approximately 45 days after the end of a month. If you deal with a financial institution that has a branch in Invermere you can arrange to have your cheque deposited in your account instead of mailed.

3. Receiving Monthly Revenue Statements

High Country Properties generates rental revenue reports on a monthly basis. This detailed statement is sent to each property owner with the listing of each renter, the amount collected per rental and a cheque for the net rental income, less expenses and management fees. Rental income statements are mailed 45 days after the closing of the previous month. GST (for homeowner who are GST registrants) is collected by High Country Properties each time a reservation is made. High Country Properties remits GST collected directly to the homeowner. PST is also collected by High Country Properties each time a reservation made. High Country Properties remits PST collected directly to the Minister of Finance BC. The homeowner statement summarizes GST paid on the monthly and annual rental income statements.

The monthly statement you receive will provide the following information:

- Reservation number and type with arrival and departure dates
- Owner arrival and departure dates.
- GST collected if applicable.

- Management fees @ 40% of net rental revenue.
- GST paid on HCP charges.
- Costs of any services or supplies provided by HCP.

Statements do not show gross rental revenue, PST, or transactions for guest activities such as golf or skiing.

Rental revenue is processed on the date of departure. (e.g. the revenue on a reservation that arrives on December 27th and stays until January 1st will be processed in January and will appear on your January statement.)

MARKETING

1. Promotional Nights and Usage

Property owners grant High Country Properties with eight complimentary night stays per year for marketing and promotions. The primary use of promotional nights is trading the property value of a night's stay for marketing dollars to be used towards print advertising, radio campaigns, media visitation and public relations initiatives such as local community organizations and partnerships. We trade and secure advertising we could not otherwise afford and because they use them as prizes for their listeners/readers we also get a new guest. More than 40% of our business comes from repeat guests. Therefore if we give someone a free night once, we likely have a paying guest for the future. Gift certificates are used to administer promotional nights. We also use gift certificates to appease guests who have had problems during their stay.

2. High Country Properties participates in the following marketing activities to achieve annual revenue goals:

- Develop and adhere to an annual marketing and sales plan
- Develop and adhere to an annual marketing budget
- Ongoing website development
- Search engine optimization – to improve our website's ranking with Google, etc
- Search engine marketing – Google adwords, pay per click display advertising
- Radio campaigns
- Print advertising in a variety of publications (newspapers, guidebooks, magazines)
- Promotional collateral – brochures, flat sheets, displays, signage
- Fostering and building relationships with Tourism partners such as Destination Marketing Organizations (DMO's), area tour operators, Kootenay Rockies Tourism and Destination BC / Hello BC programs, Chamber of Commerce
- Acquiring travel media personalities to visit the property and write articles in newspapers, magazines and blogs
- Email marketing – ECLUB with a subscription database of over 5,000
- Social media – twitter, facebook
- Online travel agent partners – Expedia, Booking.com, Air B&B and others

OWNER STAYS

1. How early do I need to reserve dates for my own stays?

Once your property is online, you must always contact our office before entering your property. You must make a reservation if you wish to stay in your property. To avoid disappointment, it is recommended that you reserve owner dates as far in advance as possible, one year advanced notice is required for holidays and long weekends. If you are unsure of the exact dates that you require, we recommend that you reserve a longer period of time and confirm the exact dates when you know them. As per our management agreement, we will not move confirmed guest reservations to accommodate owner requests.

2. How do I book my own stay?

If your property is available, you may make an owner reservation. We prefer that you book with at least 48 hours' notice so that our busy operations department can ensure your property has been cleaned and is Certified Guest Ready.

You can book through the following methods:

- Online Booking - <https://reservations.highcountryproperties.com/IRMNet/Owner/OwnerHome.aspx>
- Email – info@highcountryproperties.com
- Phone – 800.665.1801

Our check in time is 4:00 pm. Check out time is 11:00 am. We require FIRM adherence to this policy by owners as well as all guests for time to complete the cleaning of properties. If you wish to check in early or stay late we recommend booking an additional night. If that does not work then please phone our reservations on day of arrival or departure to make sure the unit is ready early or if late check out is available.

3. What are the charges for my owner stay?

When owners (or their immediate family) stay in their own property, the cleaning of the property after their stay is charged to the owner at the current hourly housekeeping rate. If all of the property was not used during a stay (i.e. a bedroom or bathroom) you should call the office and speak to Operations and leave a note for the cleaner stating this information to reduce the cleaning time. If you book friends to stay in your property you will be charged for the cleaning and also the linen fee.
